Whenever love fills my heart with joy, I express it through art and craft, finding fulfillment and deep affection for him. Despite being reluctant to show my tears, after a recent heartfelt conversation through call and video, tears of joy overwhelmed me. I consider my tears a weakness, but his love brings forth tears of fulfillment and love. I marvel at the depth of his affection, questioning how one person can express such immense love. It remains a source of wonder for me. These tears symbolize joy, fulfillment, and love, portraying my actions as a “token of love.” Now, I want to dedicate song lyrics to him🥰…

“Un ullam naan kandu
En ullam nee kandu
Unakaaga naan undu
Endru vaazhum
Kaadhalthaanae kaadhal”…♥💞♥
